Now you're ready, take 10 minutes to learn more about where to look for your new English vocabulary!

Just type your answers into this document and save it when you're done. If you prefer to write by hand, you can print it out and fill it out that way.

PART ONE WHY ARE YOU LOOKING FOR NEW VOCABULARY?

ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS WITH AS MUCH INFORMATION AS POSSIBLE.

>> How will you use these words? (in conversation? writing?)

>> Who will you talk or write to?

>> Why are you learning these new words? (to have better conversations? to understand more? to write better about a specific topic?)

>> Are these words based on a TOPIC or a SITUATION?

>> What is the TOPIC or SITUATION these words are based on?

PART TWO HOW TO FIND NEW VOCABULARY

Watch this video: <https://youtu.be/H9vXRBEXhnY>

AGAIN, ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS WITH AS MUCH DETAIL AS YOU CAN.

>> Look at your answers from part 1. Are you going to do intentional or unintentional vocabulary hunting?

Watch this video: <https://youtu.be/VmeVfGPX8dw>

>> Where do you think you will find the vocabulary you're looking for? Make a list of three websites, books or YouTube channels you'll use:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

PART THREE FINDING THE NEW VOCABULARY

OKAY, SO NOW YOU'VE FOUND THE VOCABULARY. THIS IS BONUS SECTION FOR YOU TO RECORD THE LANGUAGE YOU'RE GOING TO LEARN.

>> The TOPIC or SITUATION I chose:

>> This is the useful vocabulary I found:

ABOUT THE TEACHER

I'm Sam. I'm the founder of English For Study and I'm an English language teacher, coach and lecturer from the UK.

I create English learning programs and lessons for highly motivated (but busy) non-native English speakers to help guide them towards the English level that they deserve.

I specialise in helping non-native English speakers overcome the barriers that stop them progressing.

These barriers might be to do with language, confidence, confusion (ever feel like this? "ahhh I just don't know what to do!"), a lack of organisation, and other weak areas you may not know about.

But when I work with a student, I help them to find out what these barriers are and how they can finally overcome them, so they can reach a level of English that they are proud of.

Maybe I can help you, too.

I also specialise in academic English (how to write better essays and give powerful English presentations) and successful self study.

If you'd like to know more about my one-to-one private English coaching packages or my programs, email me:
